De Wet Defeated and Fleeing.

Col. PLUMER CAPTURES HIS GUNS AND CONVOY.

British Arms Successful Everywhere.

"Gelling Gun" Howard Killed.

Boer Forces Disorganized.

Canadian Killed.

Winipeg, Feb. 25, 1901.
Col. Plumer's forces utterly routed the De Wet capturing all his artillery and camp outfit. The Boer general escaped across the Orange river in a boat. His command is scattered.

Lord Kitchener reports the death of Major "Gat" Howard, of the Canadian engineers, who was killed in action at a battle fought on at Liverpool, on the 24th of February.

Frank Douglas, an Upper Canada college graduate of Toronto, was killed in action at a battle fought on the 24th of February.

London, Feb. 24: The war office received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener:

"Bullburg, Transvaal, Feb. 24th: From reports from Plat Reef, Feb. 24, that the result of the columns sweeping the country east is that the Boers are retreating in scattered and disorganized parties to the number of some 5,000 in front of him. Amsterdams and Plat Reef have been occupied and troops are protecting the road frontier. French will push on to the north. The Boers are being much harassed by the continuous heavy rains."

A summary of the total losses inflicted upon the enemy up to Feb. 18th, was as follows: Two hundred and thirty-five Boers known to have been killed and wounded in action, 86 taken prisoners, 183 surrendered, one 50 pound gun, 462 rifles, 10,000 rounds of small ammunition, 3,500 horses, 70 mules, 2,500 trek oxen, 15,700 cattle, 15,000 sheep and 1,070 wagons and carts captured. Our casualties were five killed and 41 men killed and four of these and 108 men wounded. I regret that Major Howard, a very gallant officer of the Canadian scouts was killed on Feb. 17th. Col. Plumer reported that Col. Owen captured De Wet's 100 pound and pom-pom Feb. 23, as well as 30 prisoners and a quantity of ammunition. We had no casualties.

The enemy is in full retreat and disorganizing being vigorously pursued. De Wet's attempt to invade Cape Colony has completely failed."

"Gat" Howard is the officer referred to by Lord Kitchener in the above despatch. This gallant officer went out with D squadron, second contingent, attached as lieutenant to the machine gun section. When the Mounted Rifles left the Transvaal, he with others remained and organized the Canadian scouts. Howard was placed in command of the section of the machine gun section, which he handled with confidence and precision under the hottest fire. His wife, Miss Howard, was with him. He was killed on Feb. 17th. He was a native of New England, but had been a resident of Quebec since 1885, he was the son of the Dominion government.

Col. Plumer engaged Gen. De Wet's forces near Bisselfontein on the south bank of the Orange river, capturing a gun and a pom-pom and taking 30 prisoners. The Boers were scattered and are being pursued by Col. Plumer. It is reported that Gen. De Wet escaped to the opposite bank in a boat and is now fleeing with a handful of followers. It is also reported from a Boer source at Zeerust that Gen. De Wet has been captured.

The first annual meeting of the shareholders of the Edmonton Industrial Exhibition association was held in Robertson hall on the 29th. Wednesday last. The secretary's report was received and adopted and the election of directors was then proceeded with, resulting in the election of the following: C. Gallagher, Thos. Bellamy, J. H. Kennedy, J. H. Morris, W. S. Robertson, John Kennedy, D. Brox, M. McCauley, and Donald Ross. Messrs. John A. McDonald and E. C. Emery were also nominated but withdrew. Some 400 persons took place as to the date for holding a fair and a resolution was passed in that the opinion of the meeting was desirable to hold the fair during the first week in July. The meeting then adjourned. The directors will meet on the 27th to elect a president and other officials.

The decision of Insp. Snyder, the magistrate trying the Montgomery arson case, was given Saturday. The magistrate dismissed the accused. The dismissal was a somewhat qualified one, under a procedure but little used. Under the law the supreme court cannot try a criminal case unless the accused has previously appeared before a justice of the peace and been committed for trial or unless the judge consents to hearing the case without the accused first receiving a preliminary trial. In dismissing the accused in the present case the magistrate took a recognition from the private prosecutor, Chief of Police Patton, to proceed with the case before the supreme court. That means that the prosecution will have to apply to the judge at the next sitting of the court here, submitting their evidence to him and, should he deem it advisable to do so, the case will be re-opened and continued before him.

FROM "PAT" CARPENTER

The Bulletin has received the following from Mr. T. V. E. Carpenter, who enlisted here with Strathcona's Horse.

Edmonton, Jan. 13, 1901.

"We have been hunting DeWet for the last two months, but did not catch him. I cannot tell, as we seemed to have him cornered up on several occasions. I don't believe it was through any particular cleverness on his part, but the knowledge of the country could do what he is doing. Whenever he is cornered he and his burghers simply retreat and get out the best way they can and leave their transport. DeWet himself takes care to be one of the first to go. On one occasion we joined part of Col. Barker's column, the column was pressing hard on DeWet's rear, the Strathconas were sent down his left flank and got nearly close enough to cut him off. Had the gun been in support, I believe this would have happened. The Boers knew they were nearly caught so they would see them making off to the right by the score and separating. We got six or seven wagons.

As far as I can see there cannot be absolute peace in this country for at least two years, unless they shoot all the Boers. There are thousands of Boers turning loose all over, if those now gone the Boers would be doing us of course when marching we take lots of them, and drive in some, but it is impossible to drive them all in. If they were shot and the government afterwards thought it to pay for them it would cost far less than hunting the Boers as they are doing now and certainly less lives.

I admire the way in which the late Transvaal government carried out public works. Every town of any consequence has a really handsome public building of some sort, in most cases a year office with offices for the public officials attached. Several towns have also jail and court house. Nearly all the buildings are of cut stone.

The roads are for the most part good and seem to have had a lot of work done on them, where needed, the bridges are of stone or iron, all well built structures.

The railway as far as the roadbed, bridges and buildings are concerned is a real perfection as any I have ever seen. The rolling stock is good, but there is room for improvement.

Except as a soldier I would not recommend anyone to come here at present as there is very little work of any kind to be got in the country and you will not get out in the country without being shot at.

The government should soon be able to collect a revenue as the money-making part of the country is small and easy to protect. This is of course the mining district of Johannesburg and Pretoria. Nine of the mines have been destroyed.

As a farming country the Transvaal will never be any good. You can't get anything without irrigation and in most cases it is impossible to get water. On Nov. 26th, all the crops in the Potchefstroom district (where we were at the time) were destroyed by hail, fruit included, so you see the Northwest is not the only place that suffers from hail storms.

WAR SUMMARY

General DeWet's desperate dash through Cape Colony, with Lord Kitchener himself at his heels, clothes, the South African struggle with absorbing dramatic interest. Six flying British columns are being employed in the pursuit of the Boer raiders. They are operating from the north, south and east, at least upon accomplishing a converging movement which will end in driving the burghers to his corner. The British have stripped their horses down to the lightest possible riding order, and they are racing day and night to cut off the bold advance of DeWet. General DeWet's force numbers between 2,000 and 3,000 men and two guns. Their progress through the western districts of Cape Colony since at a juncture with other invading commandos, clustered around Britstown. The British troops for the moment will confine their energies to the frustrating of such a juncture. The Daily Mail is confident Kitchener will make a new reputation before the week is over by capturing his intended foe, "whose neck at last, has been running in an inevitable groove." According to some British correspondents in South Africa DeWet's formation of Cape Colony has landed him in a bad predicament. They represent him as having lost nearly all his ammunition and having been turned into a district denuded of horses and supplies. One Cape Town correspondent says he notes the Boer leader is again surrounded, and adds that news of the highest importance may have been so long accustomed to writing in this manner that perhaps the Boer has become mechanical. "The Boer is true, DeWet has had what he deserves. He is still at it, but he is being represented as having been in most deplorable condition, out of horse, DeWet, according to the correspondents, is obliged frequently to resort to force to keep his men in the ranks. Many have deserted since they are exhausted and underfed. It is reported when entering the Cape Colony the Boer farmers are said to be retreating in a hasty manner. Nevertheless, the Boers are coming means their ruin. There is increasing evidence that the commandos in the colony are being sent to join him. One correspondent says that the disposition of the British forces will prevent this.

YOUNG LIBERAL ASSOCIATION.

The young liberals met Thursday evening in St. Nicholas hall for the election of officers and transaction of other business. There was a large attendance of the members of the association, which now numbers between 60 and 70 members.

Honorary president, J. H. Picard.
Honorary vice-president, J. H. Garriety.

Honorary 2nd vice-president, E. Villeneuve.

President, C. W. Cross.

1st vice-president, R. J. Manson.

2nd vice-president, Dr. Roy.

Treasurer, P. E. Leese.

Secretary, A. G. Harrison.

Executive committee, A. T. Cushing, J. W. Kelly, A. E. Goodwin, P. Wagner, S. Cloutier, and M. Labossier.

A number of matters of importance to the district were discussed, after which the meeting adjourned.

MOB LAW.

The American nation is a great nation, Canadians admire many things about their American cousins; they like their "go"; but one thing we don't like is their law, or the manner in which those laws are administered. The administration of a nation which makes such a state of riot and unlawfulness as the following possible, appeals only to the Canadian as a thing to be shunned. Possibly the incident mentioned below, which is only one of hundreds, is less to be criticized than the conditions which made it necessary or possible. Only residence in the States and a close observation of the life and conditions there would enable one to locate the root of the rottenness. The Bulletin expects to do so, on the account of it being saloons that were wrecked but simply because any man's property, even a saloon, should be protected by law, if licensed, and if not licensed should not be tolerated by the law.

Two saloons belonging to Henry Schmidt were demolished by 1,000 men, women and boys here, on the account of it being saloons that were wrecked but simply because any man's property, even a saloon, should be protected by law, if licensed, and if not licensed should not be tolerated by the law.

"When the crowd reached 'the joints,' they found the doors barricaded and guns roared through the cracks. Paying no attention to the guns, they battered down the doors. While the women were smashing the bar fixtures some fired rifles or ten shots, two of which took effect.

Miss Emma Denney and Mrs. Willcox were wounded and Miss Denney was hit in the mouth and her wound is considered serious. Chas. Schmidt was wounded by a hatchet wielded by a man, by a minister. Temperance people have been scouring the town to discover who fired the shots and if they find out they say they will lynch the shooter."

TURNIP LAKE.

George Crosswell has disposed of the farm he purchased last summer from Mr. Enright to Mr. Peter, of Edmonton.

Hicks and Wm. and Carson Leimer are off to Slave Lake with freight. They will be away about a month.

There is no chicken or small pox in this district.

Hugh McKay has sold out his dairy business to J. Huggan, of the east end dairy.

Mr. Barker will work Capt. McDonald's farm on shares this year.

A party of young people met at Mr. Henry Drayton's residence on Friday night for a dance. T. B. Shields and Mr. Neher were the violinists. Mrs. Drayton provided a bountiful supper of good things to which these people did full justice. The party broke up in the small hours of morning.

At the Sturgeon, Joe Carson's, Sandy Carson's and George Carson's houses are quarantined.

Jan. 24, '01.

OLDS

Mr. Galey and family, consisting of wife, one son and three daughters arrived from Illinois last Friday.

Lyman & Dunn have bought two lots on the corner of Railway Ave. and 2nd street, and intend building a warehouse soon.

The meeting called to meet in Logan's Hall Wednesday night did not meet. The object for which the meeting was called was to take steps to protect the community from the small pox which disease seems to be getting quite a foothold in Northern Alberta. Although the disease is of a very mild form and quite a distance from here an sufficient concern should be manifested by our citizens to take all due precaution to prevent its introduction.

Our district was again visited by fire on Tuesday morning when W. C. Hama's house, 6 miles west of town and occupied by Elsworth Lawrence, was burned to the ground. During the night Mr. Lawrence became ill so Mr. Lawrence arose and put on a fire. When they awakened in the morning it was found that the roof was in flames. They immediately set to work to carry out the furniture and were successful in saving nearly everything of value before the roof fell in and another home was destroyed.

Mr. Lawrence who is almost prostrated has gone to the hospital at Calgary.

Walter C. Ramsey and Miss Daisy Day were united in marriage on the 24th inst., by Rev. Theo. Powell.
